Article I. Purpose

These Guidelines are formulated to encourage students to develop integrity of character and cultivate merits from honesty, kindness, and beauty, so as to serve society and mankind. The Wenzao Outstanding Youth Award will establish the model for all students at the University.

Article II. Eligibility

An applicant should have a minimum grade point average of 75 or above, no record of minor demerit or above, and continuously demonstrate one of the following achievements:

- A. Outstanding acts of filial piety, fraternal love, and well-maintained classmate relationships.
- B. Outstanding academic performance, solid research achievements or discoveries.
- C. Enthusiastic and continuous participation in volunteer and charitable services with outstanding achievements.
- D. Outstanding achievements in organizing or participating in activities which earn prestige and honor for the nation and the University.
- E. Outstanding achievements in leadership and international vision.
- F. Other outstanding achievements which are to be recognized as a model for all students of the University.

Article III. Eligible Candidates

Eligible candidates are limited to students who have enrolled and completed at least one year of study at the University.

Article IV. Number of Awardees

Maximum 15 awardees for the entire University

Article V. Methods of Selection

- A. By recommendation or self-recommendation: Eligible candidates can be recommended by the University's administrative units, departments, classes, and student organizations or individuals. Detailed accounts of a candidate's outstanding achievements should be filled out in the required form and submitted to the Extracurricular Activities Section before the designated date.
- B. Review process: A document review will be conducted by the organizer as per regulations, and reviewers will determine the short list for the final open selection.

- C. Review panel: The panel will consist of a representative from the Office of Students Affairs, a representative from the Division of Continuing Education, and a representative of faculty members and staff, along with 3 student representatives.

Article VI. Award

- A. Certificate of merit.
- B. Public commendation by the University.
- C. A scholarship of NT$ 5,000 is provided from the University Tuition and Fees Fund for each awardee.

Article VII. Schedule: Please refer to the announcement made by the Extracurricular Activities Section every October.

Article VIII These Guidelines become effective after being approved at the Student Affairs Meeting and ratification by the University President. Amendments must follow the same procedure.
